

Shipping FAQ's: I have already made an order online, how can I change my shipping address, phone number or contact name?

If the order has not been processed/shipped then you would simply reply to your Order Confirmation email with this request. The subject line and the entirety of the Order Confirmation text must remain intact below the request for cancellation. If the order has already processed/shipped, no information can be adjusted. No adjustments can be made over the phone or through chat.
